

Continuous Assessment Test (CAT)

Module name: Web Design /30 marks

Date: March 27, 2025

1 Explain the purpose of HyperText Markup Language (HTML) (2 marks)

2 Consider the following website structure:

a. A hyperlink in the page documentary.html links to the page childrens.html. What will be the value of the href attribute for this hyperlink? (1 marks)

b. A hyperlink in the page TV.html links to the page film.html. What will be the value of the href attribute for this hyperlink? (1 marks)

3. Explain the purpose of the colspan and rowspan attributes. (2 marks)

4. Which types of lists can be created in HTML? (2 marks)

5.

a. Find the errors in the following HTML code and write the correct code. <HTML>

<HEAD> </TITLE> ROAD RULES </TITLE> </HEAD> <BODY> ROAD SAFETY RULES <UL TYPE = SQUARE> <L> Look on both the sides of the road while crossing. <L> Walk on the left side of the road. <L> Cross the road at the Zebra crossing. </BODY> </HTML>. (5 marks)

- b. Write HTML code that displays three hyperlinks to different websites. Two links should be open in new tab, and one open in internal frame. (5 marks)

6.

(a) After creating a web page, explain how one can use a web browser to display the contents using client-server architecture (2 marks)

(b) Write a HTML code that would display the following list in a browser window. (10 marks)

University Campuses

- o Main
- o Bungoma
- o Nambale

Programmes on offer

1. Education
2. Science
3. Engineering

Departments

- A. Computer
- B. IT
- C. Electrical

END

2br 1>
4br 1>